

in the text. I will assign for problem sets some of the unanswered problems, as well as some of my own.

Problem sets will be posted on the course website approximately one week after the presentation of the relevant material in class, on a date to be previously announced. Written answers to problems are to be submitted before the answers are posted. These will be selectively graded, and returned. I will take some midterm and final exam questions from these problems.