Textbook

The required textbook is Microeconomics: An Integrated Approach, 3rd edition, by David Besanko and Ronald R. Braeutigam. There is a study guide available to accompany the textbook, if you are interested.

Course Structures

There are four components to the course: lectures, readings, assignments, and exams.

1. The lectures will follow the readings in terms of topics covered. However, there may be some material covered in lecture that will not be covered by the readings, and there most certainly will be some material in the readings not covered in lecture. Attendance in lecture is quite important to get the understanding basic concepts and their applications. I will provide a sign sheet every class. University Policies

Students with Disabilities:

If you qualify for accommodations because of a disability, please submit to me a letter from Disability Services in a timely manner so that your needs may be addressed. Disability Services determines accommodations based on documented disabilities. Contact: 303-492-8671, Willard 322, and <http://www.Colorado.EDU/disabilityservices>.

Religious Observances

Campus policy regarding religious observances requires that faculty make every effort to reasonably and fairly deal with all students who, because of religious obligations, have conflicts with scheduled exams, assignments, or required attendance. If you have a conflict due to a religious obligation, please see me at least one full week in advance so that alternate arrangements can be made. Policies regarding religious practice are available at www.colorado.edu/policies/fac_relig.html.

Classroom Behavior

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. Students who fail to adhere to such behavioral standards may be subject to discipline. Faculty have the professional responsibility to treat all students with understanding, dignity and respect, to guide classroom discussion and to set reasonable limits on the manner in which they and their students express opinions. Professional courtesy and sensitivity are especially important with respect to individuals and topics dealing

Academic Misconduct

All students of the University of Colorado at Boulder are responsible for knowing and adhering to the academic integrity policy of this institution. Violations of this policy may include cheating, plagiarism, aid of academic dishonesty, fabrication, lying, bribery, and threatening behavior. All incidents of academic misconduct shall be reported to the Honor Code Council (honor@colorado.edu, (303) 725 227 TJETBT. Stf thisdeuBT1 0 0 1 493.06 642.30a(
